Personal reflection week 1

Simon Johnsson

March 2022

1 What do I want to learn or understand better?

A:

Currently I have brief experience in utilizing the SCRUM process and working agile, and do not feel comfortable enough for the process to have flow.

B:

I want to feel comfortable enough with the methods in such a way that they only feel as a tool and not a hindrance to my goals.

A → B:

Practice using the methods during the project without undervaluing certain parts that might seem unnecessary at a first glance.

2 How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

A:

Currently I contribute with and share my own competences, but I am uncertain of the knowledge of the rest of my team.

B:

I want to be able to help someone learn something in such a way that I myself feel comfortable enough in the are that I might share what I know.

A → B:

Invest time in learning new things and hone what I already know to an extent such that I can teach someone else. I should also get a good feel of the person/persons current knowledge.

3 What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

A:

Currently, nothing.

B:

I should use it concurrently and maintain updates accurately mirroring the current progress.

A → B:

Reflect concurrently on the usage of Scrum and validate the quality of its usage.

4 What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

A:

Currently nothing.

B:

On par with the rest of my team since our perception of workload should be equal.

A → B:

Agree upon a common ground of the magnitude of contributions and workload.